Remote editing workflows

Multi-camera and entertainment
formats

I am a freelance Video Editor with over 20 years' experience across broadcast and digital media, cutting promos, documentaries, entertainment and social content for BBC, ITV, Channel 4 and leading independent production companies.

Alongside editing, I have a background as a Director of Photography on large-scale entertainment and narrative shoots, giving me a strong understanding of production workflows, multi-camera setups and editorial intent.

I regularly self-produce projects and can take work from script to final delivery entirely remotely, offering editing, colour grading, sound design and motion graphics from my Adobe and DaVinci Resolve studio.
